

View from the southwest of Carbon Canyon Regional Park.

The existing Carbon Canyon Pump Station. The proposed pipeline begins at the manhole visible in the foreground.

View from the west of the Breitburn oil well site.

View from the southwest of the proposed pipeline alignment in Carbon Canyon Regional Park. The existing OCSD and Texaco pipelines are aligned through this area.

View from the northwest of the drilling pit area as shown in Exhibit 3.0-3.

View from the west of the Carbon Canyon Dam basin.